These two images show the several trees noted earlier in this report. On the left is the line of seven White Pines planted in a three-foot-wide strip between the driveway and the newly replaced fence. The fence is at the immediate margin of the public path behind it. Some portions of the path are concrete, and the concrete slabs are lifted by the roots of the pines. These trees should never have been planted in such a confined space.

The image on the right is the Sycamore Maple. This picture was taken from the public path and shows the concrete slabs lifted here also. The top of the tree was either removed long ago or broke out, and from the truncated top to the bottom the primary trunk is hollow. The small trunk in the foreground is to remain as it is not on the property of 222 Palisade Avenue.
