Curiologists is a program based on the idea that pre-schoolers like to pretend and explore and learn! In this 6-week session, they play the role of scientists and explore themes that encompass a physical connection to the world around them. Each lesson is designed to provide a sensory experience to enhance a child's natural curiosity. This class gives a hands-on approach to the making and mixing of chemical reactions we experience everyday, only this time we learn why they happen and then see it for ourselves through experimentation. From bubbles to slime, invisible ink to oxidation, these kids will experience how fun science truly is.

Fee: $140.00 Residents $155.00 Non-residents
